On behalf of the undersigned July 2, 2021 To: Executive vice-president, Margrethe Vestager Vice-President, Věra Jourová Commissioner for Justice, Didier Reynders Commissioner for Internal Market, Thierry Breton Commissioner for Financial services, financial stability and Capital Markets Union, Maire□ad McGuinness Joint letter on the European Commission's upcoming initiative on sustain□able corporate governance First and foremost, the co-signatories of this letter support the European Com□mission in its ambition to fight climate change and agree that companies play a vi□tal role in the transition towards a green and sustainable economy. Most Nordic companies have already incorporated or are incorporating sustainability in their strategy. However, the upcoming initiative on sustainable corporate governance touches upon two very different subjects; due diligence and corporate governance, which in our opinion should be handled separately. Linking them under the joint heading "sustainable corporate governance" is inappropriate as the two subjects have very different consequences including regulatory, economic, practical and competition implications. The upcoming initiative on corporate governance is based on the er□roneous assumption that European companies focus on the shareholders' short□term economic interests only. This assumption is not thoroughly documented. The upcoming initiative is presented as a proposal pursuing a sustainable agenda.
